Special Hearing Advice Week

Let us make sense of your hearing

UK Hearing Care working with Age UK would like to welcome local residents to attend a Special Hearing Advice Week being held at venues in your area. It's your opportunity to 'make sense of your hearing'.

This interesting and informative event will give local residents the opportunity to talk to a local qualified hearing aid audiologist about their hearing concerns. Those attending will receive fully independent and informative hearing advice focusing on improving clarity for those with hearing difficulties.

If you struggle with some degree of hearing loss and are looking to improve on your day to day hearing clarity you should take advantage of this event.

During this Special Hearing Advice Week, our leading independent hearing care professionals will be giving the best advice on hearing in background noise and hearing with improved clarity; as well as special demonstrations on the latest ultra discreet hearing solutions.

Age UK Hearing Clinics are designed to help those with hearing difficulties find the best solution. Our team will advise patients on the options available to them, including signposting people to the NHS.

As demand is expected to be high, we recommend you book your appointment early. If you would like to attend this event and arrange a FREE hearing assessment, call to make an appointment on 0800 620 0142.

Home appointments available if unable to attend. Please call for further details.

Hearing in background noise let's make things clear

We offer definitive evidence based advice on what improvements can be made to your hearing in background noise. Learn about any limitations you may have.

How do Age UK Hearing Aids make sense of speech in background noise?

Over the years providers of hearing care have become very skilled at defining the actual hearing loss you have using Pure Tone Audiometry (PTA), this is what most people mean when they say having a "hearing test". However, defining the effect a hearing loss can have on our ability to listen and communicate is far harder to calculate.

These tests are used to program hearing aids in a basic way. They don't reliably tell you how the brain is working in respect of processing the sounds. So you can have two people with identical PTA test results but who have VERY different experiences with their hearing and very different abilities to communicate.

Age UK Hearing Aids are tackling the problem of background noise head on by creating an innovative new way of dealing with this issue. It's a popular misconception that your hearing will be improved simply by amplifying what you hear. But one of the most common problems people encounter with hearing difficulties in background noise is that speech remains muffled and indistinct and that unwanted noise swamps foreground sounds. Simply making sounds louder doesn't make speech any clearer.

How we test our ability to communicate

At Age UK Hearing Aids we have combined the hearing test with a suite of assessments that provide a 360° analysis of a person's hearing. Each assessment is linked to a phase of communication decline which we have called the 5 phases of communication decline.

The 5 phases of communication decline

Phase 1 – Sensitivity to sound

We use the standard Pure Tone Audiometry (PTA) hearing test to assess any decline in sensitivity to sound.

Phase 2 – Speech discrimination in quiet

We use Free Field Word Recognition Tests, presented through a calibrated loud speaker, to assess any decline in speech recognition.

Phase 3 – Speech discrimination in noise

We use a special calibrated Speech in Noise test to measure what level speech needs to be, relative to all other competing sounds, for a patient to be able to follow a conversation. This is the most commonly reported and most important area of communication difficulty for most of the patients we see.

Phase 4 – Comfort or tolerance to background noise

We use the Acceptable Noise Level (ANL) test to measure at what level an individual finds noise annoying relative to a conversation at a comfortable volume. This assesses any decline in acceptable noise levels.

Phase 5 – Non response to amplification

Once we program a hearing solution and apply that hearing correction to your ears we use an Aided Free Field Word Recognition test to assess the potential for improvement and design your rehabilitation pathway.

Using these five different assessment tools can identify how far any damage to your auditory system has progressed and look at the impact on your ability to communicate. After the assessment you will be given a full explanation of the results to ensure you fully understand the nature of your hearing difficulties and its effects.

We will then give advice on options available and what tailored hearing solution is right for you. As part of the consultation we can also give you a demonstration of your ideal hearing solution based on technology and best value.

Not all national hearing aid companies offer all these tests as a standard part of their service. You can be confident you are getting the very best assessment available to you.

To book your free hearing assessment call us today on 0800 620 0142

Maternity service move may face legal challenge

POLITICAL parties from across Banbury have united to condemn a decision to suspend obstetric services at Horton General Hospital.

In a joint statement, Banbury Conservatives, Labour, Liberal Democrats, Greens and UKIP raised major concerns about the decision to "temporarily" downgrade maternity services.

By Samantha McGregor

On Wednesday last week, Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust agreed to suspend consultant-led maternity services at the Oxford Road hospital from October 1.

In a separate move, campaign group Keep The Horton General said it was considering legal action over the decision. The group said its solicitor sent a letter to the trust ahead of the meeting pointing out the trust was in breach of its "obligation to involve patients in its decision-making on service provision". It also said the trust had made "inadequate attempts to recruit replacement staff".

Group chairman Keith Strangwood said: "We could not have done any more."

"We have done our utmost to get the message out to the public of Banbury-shire that the OUHFT are hell bent on destroying our hospital."

"As long as we have a representative standing, we will fight on."

In a joint letter, Banbury political parties said the decision was "wrong" and consultants should travel to Banbury as a temporary measure.

It said: "We have major concerns about the way in which the trust has communicated their plans, and the recruitment process itself. They now

Officers in training for terrorist attacks

A COUNTER-TERRORISM training exercise was held near Wallingford on Tuesday to test emergency services' response to a major incident in the Thames Valley area.

The exercise featured a fake armed terrorist attack at the disused Carmel College, which involved about 100 participating role players and specially-trained firearms officers as part of nationwide training exercises.

By Dominic Thomas

The scenario was one of two exercises over a two-day period involving police from the Thames Valley and Hampshire forces, along with the military, fire and rescue and ambulance services - the other exercise was carried out in Basingstoke yesterday. Deputy Chief Constable of Thames Valley Police John Campbell said: "These exercises are carried out routinely on a regular basis, and are not in response to any specific threat."

"It's fair to say that there's no particular threat that suggests there's any likelihood of something happening in the Thames Valley area."

"But the national threat level is at severe, so this forms part of a regular and consistent training programme across the country."

"We're always asking the public to be alert and not alarmed, because we all have to go about our daily lives and make sure we're not changing our lives significantly because of any significant threat."

Britain's terror threat has remained at severe, the second highest rating, since August 2014, meaning an attack is highly likely, as a response to the rise of so-called Islamic State.

Deputy Chief Constable Campbell added that in the unlikely event of the public being caught up in an attack the thing to remember would be to 'run, hide and tell the police'.

However, he reminded people: "Our greatest protection from this type of threat is strong communities where they might recognise that people are beginning to radicalise and report it to the police."

"Terrorism is a real threat and danger to all our communities and if you were to profile where different people come from who were involved in terrorist attacks or planning, I'm afraid there's a patchwork across the country. It's not confined to just the big cities, so we've all got to be vigilant - but alert not alarmed."

Any suspicious activity can be reported by the public on a confidential anti-terrorist hotline on 0800 789321.

If anyone is worried about somebody who may be vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism, they are also advised to contact police on 101, or to visit www.preventtragedies.co.uk

Man 'obsessed' with BBC presenter is jailed

AN Oxford man with an "unshakeable obsession" was jailed for three years at Oxford Crown Court on Monday after being convicted of breaching restraining orders not to contact BBC presenter Emily Maitlis and her family.

Edward Vines, 46, sent letters to the journalist and her mother accusing her of making up allegations of harassment.

The Grosvenor Road resident was found guilty of breaching the order, which was imposed in 2009, between May 10, 2013 and June 26, 2015.

He sent two letters to his 46-year-old victim and emails and letters to her mother.

He pleaded guilty to two further breaches of the restraining order.

Judge Peter Ross told Vines: "You never had any reasonable excuse to contact [the victim] following the order."

"You have what appears to me a completely unshakeable obsession, underpinned by a couple delusion with regards to the relationship that had existed...that is absolutely clear in the letters you have written...you have known that for 25 years this woman wanted nothing to do with you."

Jurors took less than an hour to find Vines guilty of two counts of breaching the restraining order.

Mother-of-two Ms Maitlis has been a journalist and newsreader for the BBC since 2001 and is one of the main hosts of BBC 2's Newsnight programme.

Wallet stolen

OXFORD: A young man was assaulted and had his wallet stolen by a group of thieves on Sunday.

The 18-year-old victim was approached by a group of seven people at about 3.30am in St Aldate's, near Oxford Town Hall.

He was tripped over by the robbers before they assaulted him and stole his wallet, which included bank cards and cash.

The suspects then fled the scene with some heading along Blue Boar Street and some along St Aldate's.

The offenders were a mixture of male and female and were all in their early- or mid-20s.

The victim was not injured in the incident.

Call police on 101.

Study backs veils

OXFORD: A team of Oxford University researchers say strongly religious Muslim women wearing the veil 'may signal that they are integrating more' with the modern world rather than less.

Researchers from Oxford University and the European University Institute says wearing the veil shows they want to engage with Western, secular societies without losing their Muslim identity.

The team adds that attempts to ban the veil might be counterproductive, by forcing Muslim women to stay at home.

Serious crash

OXFORD: A four-vehicle crash in Oxford has left two elderly women in critical condition.

The incident took place on August 31 at about 9.50am on the A423 eastern bypass and involved a red Peugeot 308, a white Ford Mondeo, a blue Vauxhall Astra and a HGV.

The woman, aged 82 and 76, who had been travelling in the Vauxhall, sustained serious life-changing injuries and were taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital at Headington where they remain in a stable but critical condition.

A 16-year-old boy travelling in the Ford injured his leg and was also taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital. He has since been discharged.

Contact police on 101.

say they will aim to recruit for January, so we hope they will do all that is possible to meet their own deadline. Downgrading the unit to a midwife-only service, leading to women in labour having to travel to the John Radcliffe consultant-led unit an hour's drive away will put the lives of both mothers and babies at risk."

North Oxfordshire MP Victoria Prentis said she was "disappointed" with the decision and would campaign to overturn it.

She said: "I am also disappointed that this decision has been taken with no public consultation and no discussions have been had with neighbouring Members of Parliament, whose constituents will also be affected by these changes."

"We only found out about the contingency plan at the end of July, and have not seen any evidence or risk assessments to understand the impact the suspension may have."

"I firmly believe the trust could have done more to recruit enough consultants."

"I really hope this decision is short term and the recruitment process will continue so that a full service can resume as soon as possible. In the meantime, I will continue to work with colleagues and local elected officials and do all that I can to secure the future of our local hospital."

The trust said it made the decision because it had problems recruiting "middle-grade" doctors at the hospital.

Dr Bruno Holthof, the trust's chief executive, said: "We are extremely disappointed to be in this position today and have taken into consideration the views of many groups of people who are affected by this decision. Having tried exceptionally hard to recruit to these posts, using every incentive available to us, we would prefer to be maintaining the obstetric service at the Horton and will keep on with our recruitment drives."

"However, we clearly cannot run a service without doctors to provide it. This outcome reflects national difficulties in recruiting to obstetrics."

"We will continue with our ambition to reinstate the obstetric service at the Horton as well as the Special Care Baby Unit that goes alongside it, as soon as we have the staff to operate safely."

SUCCESSFUL international online business Amazon is the latest firm to move to Banbury.

Amazon is increasing its UK distribution by leasing a 170,000 sq ft warehouse at Banbury Cross, just off junction 11 of the M40.

It joins other major companies including The Entertainer, DHL, 3663, Kraft Foods, Fresh Direct, ProDrive and Isofit.

Cllr Lynn Pratt, Cherwell's lead member for estates and the economy, said: "It can only be good news for Banbury to welcome an international brand such as Amazon to the town."

"Aside from the creation of jobs, the association with this globally-renowned company will help to put Banbury on the map and encourage other firms to consider the area as a base for their business."

By Samantha McGregor

Amazon has yet to confirm how many jobs will be created by the move.

Sean Woodcock, Labour group leader, welcomed Amazon's addition to the town, but said he would be looking for assurances over tax and employee relations.

Amazon is among several multi-national companies that have been criticised for taking advantage of tax loopholes.

He said: "It is great to see new businesses coming to Banbury, especially when we are talking about one of the biggest companies in the world."

"Amazon has been at the centre to recent controversies around how it treats its employees and how much tax it pays."

"But broadly I welcome the potential windfall in jobs and what it says about the town and its prospects."

The announcement means there is now just one warehouse left at Banbury Cross - an 111,500 sq ft building.

Oliver Bertram, development director at First Industrial which developed the site with firm Clearbell, said: "We are incredibly pleased with Amazon's decision to expand their portfolio with the lease of unit 3, and are looking forward to meeting with further prospective occupiers regarding unit 2."

Amazon was unavailable for comment.

24-hour gym

BANBURY: Plans to build a 24-hour gym at Banbury Cross Retail Park have been approved.

Kames Capital will construct a new building next to Poundworld for chain PureGym.

Cllr Colin Clarke, Cherwell District Council's lead member for planning, said: "Because of accessibility of the site and the parking available there, it was felt that this proposal is acceptable without the need for additional infrastructure."

Block converted

BANBURY: An office block that had been vacant for a decade has been transformed into affordable housing thanks to a £1m grant.

Cherwell District Council's Build! team secured the grant from the Homes and Community Agency.

The cash paid for a long-term lease with owner Brickmort and converted the four-storey former office block into 39 one-bedroom apartments.

Job fairs

NOXON: Two job fairs are set to take place this month in Bicester and Banbury.

The first, Banbury Job Fair, takes place on Wednesday, September 14, at the town hall from 4pm to 7.30pm.

A fortnight later on September 28, Bicester Job Fair takes place at Bicester Library, in Franklins House, from 5pm to 7pm.

RESCUE services lined up along the entrance to Didcot 'A' Power Station on Thursday to form a guard of honour as the body of Christopher Huxtable was recovered.

The 34-year-old's body was the first of the three missing men to have been recovered from the rubble on Wednesday, August 31, before being formally identified by police on Saturday.

Families of all three attended the ceremony at the site on the edge of Didcot at 2.30am, just a week after a six month anniversary to the building's collapse on February 23.

Some of the men's loved ones broke down in grief as a private ambulance drove past the bowed heads of emergency service members.

The bodies of John Shaw, 61, and Kenneth Cresswell, 57, still remain missing since the disaster, which also claimed the life of their colleague Mick Collings, 53, from Yorkshire.

By Dominic Thomas

They were working to decommission the closed-down Didcot 'A' Power Station. The building that collapsed was due to be blown down by controlled demolition weeks later.

The search for the two remaining men was paused when police announced a body has been discovered on Wednesday evening. It has since resumed.

Mr Huxtable, of Swansea, along with Mr Cresswell and Mr Shaw, both of Rotherham, were employed by demolition contractors Coleman & Company who were decommissioning the site for owners RWE Npower.

Coleman and Company managing director Mark Coleman said the operation has been "pain-staking and difficult".

He added: "It's been more than six months since the terrible accident at Didcot. I know these have been the most dreadful days for the families of our three missing friends and colleagues - Chris Huxtable, John Shaw and Ken Cresswell."

Brown and Mason has since replaced Coleman and Company as principal contractor.

Rotherham MP Sarah Champion, who represents the families of Mr Cresswell and Mr Shaw, said on Thursday: "It is such a relief that one of the missing men has finally been found but we must remember that two more are still missing. These last six months have been torture for the relatives."

Protest on Europe

HUNDREDS of protesters gathered in Oxford city centre to encourage stronger ties between Britain and Europe following June's decision to leave the EU.

Approximately 400 people waved banners and flags as the march rallied from Bonn Square to Broad Street.

The Oxford event coincided with similar events all over the UK, including London, Bristol, Cambridge, Cardiff and Edinburgh.

On Monday, Parliament reconvened to debate Britain's Brexit deal and the potential of a second referendum.

The march aimed to notify Oxfordshire's six MPs - Andrew Smith, Nicola Blackwood, Ed Vaizey, David Cameron, Victoria Prentis and John

Howell - what the people of Oxford want them to say in Parliament on their behalf.

Speakers at the march included Hazel Dawe, chair of Oxfordshire Green Party's Europe campaign, Dr Ruvie Ziegler, lecturer in law at the University of Reading, and Layla Moran, Liberal Democrat parliamentary candidate for Oxford West and Abingdon.

Oxford voted over 70 per cent to remain and Oxfordshire was the only English county to vote in favour of staying in the political union of the EU.

Mrs Moran stated: "I'm still upset and angry but Theresa May can do something."

She then posed a question to Prime Minister Theresa May, saying: "Put it to Parliament - what does Brexit mean?"

Cyber campaign

OXON: Thames Valley Police has launched a new campaign to help tackle increasing rates of cyber crime.

The #ProtectYourWorld campaign, which was launched on Monday, is aiming to raise awareness about online crime and encourage residents and businesses to take action to protect themselves and to report it if they fall victim.

Fraud warning

OXFORD: With the new academic year set to begin this month, Thames Valley Police has warned students of seasonal rental fraud.

It is an emerging trend which sees fraudsters use a variety of websites to advertise properties to rent when they do not own them.

The advertisements will appear genuine with photographs and contact information and, due to demand, students often agree to pay upfront fees to secure the property quickly, without having the chance to view the property.

Women's work

OXFORD: Women worldwide are doing less housework than ever but they still do 74 minutes more than men every day, according to a 50-year study by Oxford University.

Cycle race claims life of fun-loving granddad

FRIENDS have been paying tribute to an Abingdon grandad-of-two who became the second man to have died after taking part in the RideLondon cycle event on July 31.

Richard Kell, 71, from North Abingdon, died on August 23 from serious injuries after hitting a tree on the 30 mile mark of the RideLondon London-Surrey 100, dubbed the London Marathon of bike rides.

Bicester cyclist Robin Chard, 48, died on the day of the race after suffering a cardiac arrest.

Mr Kell was airlifted to St George's Hospital in London after the accident at Pyrford and was in intensive care on a life-support machine.

He was the oldest member of Abingdon-based Outdoor Traders Cycling Club, which has a shop in High Street.

Club founder and shop owner James Choularton said: "He was a massive cycling enthusiast and was always joking and was loved by everybody at the club. He was always there with the banter.

By Dominic Thomas

"I think everybody is just devastated for the loss of his family and for the community. There is an overwhelming sense of loss."

"He was always there to help support the race guys. He was well loved and big supporter of the club."

Mr Kell was a retired heating engineer and welder who had worked in the maintenance department for Abingdon Town Council.

Club chairman Chris Brand started the 100-mile RideLondon event alongside him, but the pair were split up early on.

He said: "He was an absolutely delightful man - he was always the one on those cold wet rides that would be keeping everyone's morale up."

"He liked his hobbies and cycling had become his main hobby since he retired."

"The plan was for us to ride together, but we got separated after about six miles, and it was only once we got to the finish line we realised on the trackers that something must have gone amiss."

The club is organising memorial races in Mr Kell's memory and hopes to present a Richard Kell Trophy to the series winner later this year.

Mr Kell was fundraising for the British Red Cross, and had raised £430, over his £400 target.

On his Virgin Money Giving fundraising page Mark Sharratt said: "RIP Richard, enjoyed many pleasant miles riding with you. Condolences to your wife and family."

Another friend wrote: "I shall remember back fondly to those chats we had on the group rides, and the weekend in Flanders. Proud to have known you mate - genuine all round great guy, and a true gent. Sleep well my friend."

A statement from RideLondon said: "Everyone involved in the organisation of RideLondon sends sincere condolences to Richard's family and friends."

Ex-cop jailed

MILTON-UNDER-WYCHWOOD: An ex-policeman has been jailed for two years for more than £50,000 worth of benefit fraud.

Timothy Dunning, 53, a former Thames Valley Police officer, admitted charges of fraudulently gaining housing benefit from February 2008 to August 2013 for a property at Ansell Way, Milton-under-Wychwood.

He claimed to be renting but actually owned the property, claiming sickness and council tax benefits while working and in receipt of a police pension.

Dunning, of The Stable Yard, Oxlease Farm, Filkins, also claimed benefits without disclosing he was living with partner Louise Cattermole.

The total value of benefits and support amassed to £59,000 – almost £43,000 was for housing benefit.

The case was brought by the Department of Work and Pensions and West Oxfordshire District Council.

It was heard at Oxford Crown Court where he was sentenced on August 30.

Village burglary

EAST CHALLOW: Thieves stole jewellery and cash from a home in East Challow last week after forcing their way in to a property through a window.

Between 11.15am on August 24 and 9.15pm on August 28 the raiders gained entry to a house in Hedge Hill Road.

Oxford ups state intake

OXFORD University is set to take its biggest percentage of state school students in 40 years this year.

The University has offered 59.2 per cent of its places to state students, up from 55.6 per cent in 2015.

The statistics come after long-standing criticism of the university for not promoting social mobility by offering a disproportionate amount of places to private school students.

Dr Samina Khan, head of undergraduate admissions at Oxford, said: "We take our commitment to diversifying Oxford incredibly seriously – our work in recent years has been about targeting the students and schools that are most under-represented at Oxford."

She added: "That we are seeing progress during a time of potentially destabilising changes to university fees, school curriculum and qualifications is all the more encouraging."

The figures are still to be confirmed as students are yet to accept their offers.

1990	48% state acceptances
1995	48.1% state acceptances
2000	51.9% state acceptances
2005	51.4% state acceptances
2010	55.4% state acceptances
2016 entry	59.2% state offers

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which? Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. "Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Oxfordshire area from their local depots and manager James Miller agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Motion tabled to make EU rules part of UK law

OXFORDSHIRE'S Green Party leader is calling on Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) to lobby the Government to make European Union regulations British law to ensure stability after the Brexit vote.

During a full council meeting on Tuesday, Cllr Williams will be asking colleagues to back a motion urging OCC leader Ian Hudspeth to ask Prime Minister Theresa May to incorporate EU directives into UK law.

Cllr Williams said: "We are asking the county council to support a Consolidation Act which would incorporate all outstanding legislation resulting from EU directives and regulations which are currently in operation into British law.

By Dominic Thomas

"This would enormously simplify the Brexit process for Government, provide certainty for business and community groups and speed progress towards stability post-Brexit."

Cllr Williams, who came third in the Green Party's leadership contest on Friday, said the EU's pollution and waste regulations had become critical to the way traffic and recycling was carried out in Oxfordshire.

He added: "The Leave decision in the EU referendum will, without doubt, do long-term damage to the economy of Oxfordshire, its research base, its universities and the availability of skilled labour from overseas.

"However, the Leave vote was not a mandate for abandoning the progressive reforms the European Union helped to introduce."

Oxfordshire was the only English county to vote to remain, bucking the national trend.

Overall 215,035 people supported Remain and 163,574 supported the Leave campaign in Oxfordshire, with a high average turnout of 77.5 per cent.

In the Green Party's national leadership contest, Williams finished third behind joint winners Caroline Lucas and Jonathan Bartley, who will be sharing the role. They finished with 86 per cent of the votes, ahead of Cllr Williams with 3.4 per cent and David Malone in second place.

He said of the contest: "The whole process was very gentlemanly and calm, and we had no ideological divisions. There was no trying to tear into each other and it was a chat about tactics we should use with [Lucas and Bartley] promoting the idea of a progressive alliance."

"I was more sceptical that that would come off but let's try that and see if it works."

Abandoned puppies rescued

THREE 10-week-old lurcher-cross puppies have been found abandoned in a bucket near Bicester.

The RSPCA is appealing for information after they were found by a member of the public at about 3pm on Sunday, August 28. The woman spotted them huddled in a white bucket in Buchanan Road, Upper Arncott.

She took the three female puppies to Hart vets in Bicester, where they are being cared for.

They have been named Flora, Enid and Delilah.

CCTV appeal

WATCHFIELD: An image has been released of a woman who may have information about a dangerous dog in Watchfield.

A 37-year-old male victim was chased and lunged at by a dog at 2.20pm on Friday, July 1.

The large dog, possibly a German Shepherd, was described as aggressive and out of control, but the man escaped uninjured.

Investigating officer, PC Debbie Cannon, of Faringdon police station, said: "We would like to speak to the woman pictured as she may have information which could help with the investigation."

ASDA cash theft

CARTERTON: Police have released a CCTV image of a man they want to speak to after "a quantity" of money was stolen from a self-service machine in Carterton's ASDA.

The cash-back was stolen from self-service tills after it had been dispensed for a previous customer at the Brize Norton Road store at around 6.10pm on August 27.

WANTAGE: A jewellery shop owner from Wantage has become the 10,000th participant in an Oxford study of vascular disease.

Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust has been running The Oxford Vascular Study (OXVASC) since 2002. It is the only project of its kind that studies all acute vascular events, such as strokes and heart attacks.

Peter Casey, 55, was referred to OXVASC in April 2016 after experiencing a 'mini stroke', which caused temporary confusion and memory loss.

Hospital bosses planning to cope with extra strikes

STAFF at Oxfordshire's hospitals are preparing to cope with strike action in the coming months as a national debate over junior doctor's contracts continues.

After announcing five days of strikes each month between September and December on Friday, the British Medical Association on Monday decided to suspend the earliest set of strikes planned for September 12 to 16.

They agreed to the delay after NHS England said it needed more notice to prepare.

But the BMA maintains the dates planned for October, November and December will still go ahead. Oxfordshire hospital bosses said they are looking into options for how to deal with the strikes.

Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust runs the John Radcliffe Hospital, Churchill Hospital and Nuffield Orthopaedic Centre in Headington, Oxford, and the Horton General Hospital in Banbury.

The Trust's director of clinical services, Paul Brennan, said: "We are disappointed that no agreement has been reached at national level leading to further periods of industrial action.

By Dominic Thomas

"At this stage the Trust is reviewing the options available."

Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust runs mental health and specialised health services and community hospitals across Oxfordshire.

A Trust statement said: "Services provided by Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust were not significantly disrupted by previous strike action. But we have worked closely with our junior doctors, union representatives and all our staff to ensure we are providing a safe level of care to our patients during the upcoming planned industrial action."

"A number of provisions have been put in place to minimise the disruption to our services."

Health secretary Jeremy Hunt has said he will impose a new contract on the 54,000 junior doctors in the NHS in England this October, after they rejected it in a ballot.

It alters pay and working hours and has raised concern about unsafe working hours as well as the unfair impact it could have on female doctors.

Hundreds join housing crisis protest

ABOUT 200 residents and campaigners marched through Oxford on Saturday to demand action be taken to alleviate the county's housing crisis.

The 'Make Oxfordshire Affordable' rally, organised by trade union UNISON's Oxfordshire Health Services Branch, began in Cowley Road and headed along High Street and Cornmarket Street, before ending in Ship Street with a series of rallying speeches.

Protestors demanded an increase in wages to match rents, to axe the Housing Act and build more social housing.

Oxfordshire UNISON Health said: "Urgent action is needed to address the housing crisis in Oxfordshire."

"As well as undermining living standards as people pour a greater proportion of wages into housing, the housing crisis is undermining our public services and local economy."

"We are expected to pay London prices but few places offer wages to reflect this."

"Wage rises are needed to

help workers to continue to live in Oxford and to support public services, in the longer term we need to build secure social housing to stop wages being eaten up by more rent and house price rises."

According to campaign group Affordable Oxford, an income of £70,000 a year is now needed to afford a mortgage on a mid-priced semi-detached house in the city.

They are warning that the government's new Housing

Act is set to make the situation even worse with councils forced to sell off property, and social housing tenants potentially forced to pay market rents and end secure tenancies.

One concerned marcher said: "We pay London prices but we don't get London wages."

"More and more people can't afford to live in Oxfordshire."

"Health and care workers can't afford to live here - this is undermining local services and our local economy."

Dragon Boats drum up charity cash at annual extravaganza

TEAMS vying to be crowned Dragon Boat champions went head-to-head paddling furiously down the River Thames in Abingdon on Sunday.

Thousands cheered on the 21 teams from the banks of Rye Farm Meadow for the town's annual charity Dragon Boat Day.

After a day of heats, the grand final was won by the Wittenham Warriors.

They beat Abingdon gym group TLA Trojans to claim the victory by less than 7 hundredths of a second.

Winning stroke-man Sean

By Dominic Thomas

Newman, 48, of the Wittenham Warriors, said: "We do it for fun."

"It's the only time we get together and we just put our hearts in for the charities."

"It's nice to come away with the win as well, which makes it worthwhile."

Fellow Warrior Jason Peckham, 48, said: "It's brilliant. We love this tournament. It's for a good cause and it's great to come down."

"We're men from the village who enjoy a pint, getting together, having some fun and raising money for charity."

They were fundraising for various charities and won the event in 2014 as well as coming runners up last year.

HSBC Oxford finished third, with Pirate Printers in fourth.

Each team was made up of 16 people tasked with paddling the 250m stretch of the Thames, with a drummer setting the pace to the sound of the theme tune to Hawaii 5'0.

The event is organised by Abingdon Vespers Rotary Club.

In its 17th year, it has so far raised over £420,000 for the Rotary Club and its causes.

Rotary club president John Thompson said: "It's gone very well despite the fact that it's been breezy and quite cool today."

"But the racing has been excellent, the quality has been very good indeed."

"I don't think we've had as many people as we normally do but the stalls have all done well, the barbeque has done well, and we've had a Pimms and Prosecco tent for the first year which has done very well."

Funfairs, stalls and games were also set up on the meadow during the day.

Mr Thompson said he estimates this year's event will have raised well over £10,000.

He added: "It takes us another step on our target, which is to raise £500,000 by our twentieth race. The money is spent on a variety of things, for example on hiring a barge for four weeks to take disabled and disadvantaged guests out for a day on the canals, microcredit schemes running in Uganda, and also a scheme which takes ill young people to music festivals."

Decision over warehouse plan deferred

A DECISION on plans to build controversial giant warehouses at an entrance to Bicester has been deferred.

The plans for a 700,000 sq ft business park including distribution warehouses, a lorry park and new access road off the A41 London Road were recommended for refusal by Cherwell District Council's planning officers.

Submitted by Warren Reid, the applicant said the development would create 930 jobs.

However, residents raised concerns about increased traffic, pollution and noise, as well as the impact on wildlife at the site. Others claimed the number of jobs the development would create had been over-estimated.

A total of 24 letters of objection were received plus a 200-signature petition.

The council said the application was "deferred at applicant's request aiming to negotiate further to seek to overcome the reasons for refusal".

Senior planning officer Bob Duxbury said there was a "meaningful prospect" the council could have "successful negotiations" to overcome some of the concerns.

The council and the applicant were due to meet this week.

Abseil for Henry

WHEN Luke Froude looks down 100ft from the top of a hospital one thing will be on his mind - his miracle son Henry.

Luke, 35, along with four-month-old Henry's godfathers, Conor McLennan, 21, Matt Hewitt, 31, and Tomos Button Copeland, 35, is hoping to raise £2,000 by abseiling down the side of Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital on September 25.

The four are raising cash for the Silver Star unit which supported Luke and his wife

By Samantha McGregor

Gemma through their pregnancy and the birth of Henry.

Gemma, 34, a nursery manager, has a condition called antiphospholipid, also called Hughes Syndrome or sticky blood, which stops blood flowing to the placenta which feeds the baby.

Henry was born in early May seven weeks premature and weighing 4lb and 2oz and spent the first two weeks of his life in hospital. The couple, of Appleby Close, Banbury, had lost their first child Noah, who was stillborn at 22 weeks, and their second child Finnley, when he was just 18 weeks old.

Finnley was born 12 weeks prematurely weighing just 1lb 4oz. He was cared for in the hospital's neo-natal intensive care unit and grew to 7lb 14oz, but died after contracting an infection.

Operations manager Luke and Gemma poured their grief into fundraising in Finnley's name, raising £86,000 for Support for the Sick Newborn and their Parents (SSNAP), a charity which works with the special care baby unit at the JR.

Luke, who is scared of heights, did the abseil soon after Finnley was born and at the time vowed not to do it again. But with a "very persuasive" wife and a chance to thank the team that helped them through one of the toughest times of their lives, he changed his mind.

Luke said: "A third pregnancy was never going to be easy for Team Froude, but with the help of Silver Star, who constantly monitored and supported Gemma, Henry arrived safely."

"We wanted to do something to thank the Silver Star team and we thought what better than raising some vital funds for the unit."

Gemma, originally from Chipping Norton, said: "I think they're all very brave for doing the abseil. I would be terrified."

Figures show 76 people in Oxfordshire need an organ

A TOTAL of 42 people in Oxfordshire underwent life-saving or life-changing organ donations last year, statistics have shown.

However five people in the county died before receiving an organ they needed, the figures published by NHS Blood and Transplant on Thursday last week also revealed.

They were released ahead of national Organ Donation Week this week.

Director of organ donation and transplantation at NHS Blood and Transplant, Sally Johnson, urged families to talk about organ donation in case it becomes a decision their relative has to make.

She said: "Many families in Oxfordshire tell us they take huge comfort in knowing that their relative has saved the lives of others. There are 76 people in Oxfordshire waiting for a transplant now and they need people to agree to donate for them to get the organ transplant they so desperately need."

The report also shows around four out of 10 families in the UK did not agree to donate a relative's organ last year.

To join the organ donor register visit www.organdonation.nhs.uk or call 0300 123 2323.

Mum of toddler with cystic fibrosis hosts charity dance

By George Welch

AN OXFORDSHIRE mum "shocked" to learn a cystic fibrosis medicine to help her two-year-old daughter has been snubbed as too pricey for the NHS has launched a bid to raise money for a charity campaigning to find a solution.

Mother-of-two Zoe Bagley, from Crowmarsh Gifford near Wallingford, is hosting a 1920s-themed dance night to fundraise for the Cystic Fibrosis Trust.

Her toddler, Grace, was diagnosed with cystic fibrosis as a newborn. The inherited condition is potentially fatal and means her lungs and digestive system can become clogged with thick, sticky mucus which can make it more difficult to breathe and digest.

Grace appears to be a healthy and happy little girl, but needs regular health checks, a cocktail of anti-biotics and digestive enzymes, and physio twice daily.

But in June the National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence opted not to recommend new drug Orkambi to NHS England, citing that 'the benefit Orkambi offered did not justify its considerable cost'.

It costs £104,000 a year per patient, and is the first treatment that helps correct the genetic fault in the most common form of cystic fibrosis - which Grace suffers from. It reduces the number of times sufferer's symptoms worsened suddenly for them to need hospital treatment.

Money raised as part of Mrs

Bagley's Charleston-themed dance night on September 24 will go to the Trust, which is calling for Orkambi to be given to all who need it while extra evidence is collected on its long-term clinical impact using the UK Cystic Fibrosis Data Registry.

Mrs Bagley said: "The most important thing to me is actually to raise awareness of this devastating health condition and the medicines which can help."

Called Charleston for CF, it will run from 7.30pm until 10pm at Crowmarsh Gifford Village Hall and include vintage hair-dressing, massage, nails, vintage makeup. People will also have the chance to learn some simple Charleston steps.

Mrs Bagley, a former historian and dance teacher, has had to put plans to return to work on hold to look after Grace.

Husband Graham now has to support the family financially and Grace's four-year-old brother Edward cannot go to play groups any more and had to delay starting preschool in case he picked up coughs or colds. The minor illnesses for most could be life-threatening for his sister.

Mrs Bagley added: "We were heartbroken when we first found out. We thought that we'd had a healthy baby girl but then our world was turned upside down. We knew nothing about Cystic Fibrosis and had no idea what the future held for her, but fortunately turned to the Cystic Fibrosis Trust straight away and they were vital in those early days."

Last year she hosted a sell-out vintage fashion show which raised over £1,000. For tickets or more information go to <https://charleston4cf.wordpress.com>

Register to vote

OXON: Households in South Oxfordshire and the Vale of White Horse should have received yellow letters by the end of this week asking them to confirm who lives in the home.

South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse district councils will then sign the up to the electoral register to vote in future elections.

Green energy call

OXON: An Oxfordshire environmental charity is urging Oxfordshire County Council to sign up to energy efficiency projects.

Energy campaigners gathered at the annual Community Energy Conference, at Said Business School in Oxford on Saturday.

The Trust for Oxfordshire's Environment (TOE2), an Abingdon-based environmental charity, highlighted its vision for a low carbon Oxfordshire.

Trio trapped

OXFORD: Three people were rescued after being trapped in a multi-vehicle crash in Oxford last week.

At 9.52am on August 31, Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service was called to a crash on the Oxford ring road between Abingdon Road and Heyford Hill roundabouts.

No-one was seriously injured.

Traveller family trio which beat and enslaved man is sentenced

AN OXFORD traveller family which kept a 'vulnerable' man captive and used violence to force him work for five years on barely any pay as they siphoned off his benefits has been sentenced for their crimes.

Christopher Joyce, 82, and his daughters Mary Joyce, 60, and Helen Collins, 46, of Redbridge Hollow in Old Abingdon Road, were found guilty by a unanimous jury after a four week trial at Oxford Crown Court in June.

The Joyces were both jailed for 21 months on Thursday last week at Reading Crown Court. Collins was handed a seven-month suspended sentence and ordered to pay £2,000 in compensation.

They kept Nicholas Iliff in a brick shed described as being unfit for human habitation on the same travellers site where they lived.

The 52-year-old, who has learning disabilities, was forced to do heavy manual labour for more than 12 hours a day between April 2010 and February 2015. He was paid £5 a day.

By George Welch

Mr Iliff injured and dislocated his shoulder five times - once when he was forced to lift a heavy washing machine - and was beaten if he did not finish the task well enough.

During one of the attacks caught on CCTV Mr Iliff was hit with a metal bar.

Senior investigating officer, Detective Chief Inspector Mark Glover from the major crimes unit, said: "I hope that the sentence signifies the end of an extremely distressing period for the victim and that he can finally move on with his life."

A consultant forensic psychologist found that because of his lifelong learning disability, Mr Iliff lacked the ability to leave and appeal for help.

Mr Iliff managed to leave on occasions, but was either recaptured or too scared and returned because he had nowhere else to go.

Meanwhile, the defendants were applying for and collecting his benefits of £139,000 between 2002 and 2015. They were convicted of conspiracy to defraud in November last year.

The Joyces were sentenced to 21 months in jail for a forced labour charge and 21 months for conspiracy to defraud, to be served concurrently. They were also given a restraining order against Mr Iliff and a slavery prevention order.

He was eventually freed after a major anti-slavery police raid on March 26 in which 150 officers raided the caravan site as well as addresses in Rose Hill and Blackbird Leys.

March 26, 2015: Officers conducted search warrants in Redbridge Hollow, Hinksey Hill and properties in Blackbird Leys and Rose Hill as part of Operation Rague at 6am. Helen Collins is arrested and charged the same day.

March 30, 2015: Christopher Joyce and Mary Joyce arrested

March 31, 2015: The Joyces charged.

November 15, 2015: The trio were cleared of slavery charges but the Joyces were convicted of fraud after a six-week trial at Oxford Crown Court.

November 20, 2015: CPS orders a re-trial as the jury in November could not reach a verdict on conspiracy to require Mr Iliff to perform forced labour.

June 6, 2016: Re-trial begins.

August 31, 2016: The trio are sentenced at Reading Crown Court.

Village residents celebrate getting fast broadband

A VILLAGE near Thame is the first community in South Oxfordshire to get superfast broadband.

In the second phase of the £1m Better Broadband scheme, residents in Cuxham are now tapping into faster internet.

Since the project's roll-out two years ago, 67,500 homes and business now get superfast broadband.

The move was welcomed by Vaska Battley, owner of the village's sixteenth century Half Moon pub, who was one of the first customers to opt for an upgrade.

She said: "My customers expect to be able to access the internet when they come in for a meal or drinks."

"Since we upgraded to high-speed fibre broadband we've noticed a huge difference - now it doesn't matter how many people want to go online at the same time because the new fibre broadband service is stronger and more reliable."

Villagers were joined by their MP John Howell to celebrate the new fibre connection.

He said: "The provision of faster

By Samantha McGregor

broadband connections is a key issue in our communities.

"I am regularly contacted by constituents frustrated at the speeds they can access - including residents of Cuxham."

"Broadband is important for everyday living; for education, for banking; for access to Government Departments and much more."

"I am delighted Cuxham is now benefitting in this phase of the roll-out and look forward to seeing many more communities connected."

The roll-out is part of the Government's Broadband Delivery UK programme and is led by Oxfordshire County Council and BT, supported by South Oxfordshire District Council and Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership.

Councillor Nick Carter, the county council's cabinet member for business said: "The Better Broadband for Oxfordshire programme has significant further coverage planned in this location over the next 12 months including additional work in Brightwell Baldwin and Brightwell Upperton currently served from this new Cuxham cabinet."

Paul Bimson, BT's regional partnership director, said: "Whether people are working from home, using the internet for leisure or learning, or simply wanting to get online whilst relaxing at their local pub, like here in Cuxham, everything is easier, faster and better with fibre broadband."

Heritage deal close

BICESTER: A partnership between Cherwell District Council and Bicester Heritage is a step closer.

The council's executive will decide next month whether to ratify the agreement which will streamline the process to convert the site into a national centre for aviation and motoring excellence.

It would provide an agreed baseline for planned repair works at the site avoiding repeated complex planning applications.

Colin Clarke, Cherwell's lead member for planning, said: "RAF Bicester is the quintessential World War II airbase and I am delighted Cherwell is moving forward with this agreement to help conserve this magnificent piece of national history."

Oxford rugby pros impart pearls of wisdom with schoolboy squad

PUPILS had the chance to train with Oxford University Varsity Blues rugby squad when the team visited their school to practice drills.

The Kingham Hill School's boys' rugby team trained with the Oxford players in small groups practising their line out technique, kicking precision and scrum and tackling abilities. Both teams joined together to play a fast paced touch rugby match.

Chris Ashton, head of rugby at Kingham Hill School, near Chipping Norton, said: "This was a unique opportunity for a school team to train alongside a professional set up, the boys benefited across the board from developing specific skills to seeing how the OURFC players enjoyed themselves in a serious and disciplined environment. It was an inspiring experience for the boys."

Kingham Hill biology teacher Basil Strang, also an Oxford University rugby player, who successfully led the Oxford University second rugby team to victory over Cambridge last year, said: "The preseason day at Kingham was a fantastic day for the Kingham and Oxford boys alike."

"It proved a valuable learning opportunity for the Kingham boys as they tested themselves against some top quality players at Oxford University."

"I hope it is a relationship that will continue to flourish."

Adam Smith, Kingham Hill pupil and 1st XV captain, said: "It was great to have a formidable opposition in front of us, upping the pressure and helping us learn a huge amount about our own positions. It made us want to improve our own game and see how good we can be."

Competition

WIN tickets to see the Kenneth Branagh Theatre Company's production of The Entertainer

THE first season of the Kenneth Branagh Theatre Company has been a year of unmissable theatre.

Working in collaboration with artistic associates, director Rob Ashford and designer Christopher Oram, the acclaimed actor-director Kenneth Branagh has presented an exceptional series of plays that have brought together a remarkable group of actors.

The final play within the season is The Entertainer. Set against the backdrop of post-war Britain, John Osborne's modern classic conjures the seedy glamour of the old music halls for an explosive examination of public masks and private torment. Rob Ashford directs Kenneth Branagh as the unforgettable Archie Rice.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Freddie to return for One Night of Queen

WHEN Gary Mullen found out that his family had applied for him to appear on TV talent show 'Stars in Their Eyes' in 2000, the then computer salesman went along without a care in the world.

Now, he is one of the best Freddie Mercury tribute artists in the world, and will be at the New Theatre on Thursday, September 15.

Gary's dream comes true

THIS November will mark the 25th anniversary of the death of Queen frontman Freddie Mercury.

Known for his flamboyant style, energetic performances and booming voice, Freddie became a world superstar during the 1970s and 1980s when Queen dominated the charts.

By James Richings

Now, you can relive some of Queen's - and Freddie's - greatest moments when 'One Night of Queen' visits the New Theatre on Thursday, September 15. Starring Gary Mullen and The Works, the audience at the George Street venue will hear some of the greatest Queen tunes of all time.

Gary, who takes the role of Freddie, said: "It is a two-hour rock concert where we try to recreate that moment in time that people will never see again and that is Queen with Freddie."

"We try and give the audience the looks, sounds and energy that Queen would have given with Freddie, so it's a high-energy show."

"There is a lot of participation where everyone can boogie, dance and sing-along too and we encourage this hugely."

Gary added: "When you are in a tribute band, it's difficult because the fans need to instantly like you as you are portraying a person that they love."

"You've got to have that passion and but, ultimately, you've got to be slightly better than the person you're emulating because people want to see Queen on a good night."

"So every night must be a good night. If Queen had a bad night, they could get away with it."

"We can't, so every show we do must be top drawer."

Before impersonating one of the UK's most popular singers, Glaswegian Gary worked as a computer salesman - that is until his wife and mother filled in an application form on his behalf to appear on the TV talent show 'Stars in Their Eyes' in 2000.

Going along to the audition without any expectations, Gary ended up winning the series.

Since then, he travelled to all of four corners of the world, performing in concert in front of tens of thousands of music fans.

And even though Gary's musical career did not take off until 16 years ago, the singer still cannot believe he has achieved his goal of being a professional singer.

"It's a great job and I wouldn't swap this for anything," he said.

"Last year, I was with one of my best friends in Mexico City having a coffee on this balcony and I said to him, 'Man...we're in Mexico City'."

"Two guys from the centre of Glasgow who lived on council estates are out on a balcony, having a drink right in front of the arena we were about to play in."

"We just feel so privileged that we have had the opportunity to visit all these different places and to perform songs that people love."

Tickets cost £23.50 and the show starts at 7.30pm.

Event offers films and stargazing

AN open-air cinema and stargazing event is being held at Heyford Park, Upper Heyford, on Saturday, September 17.

'Look into the Skies', which has been organised by Dorchester Living, will allow people of all ages to watch science fiction films while also enjoying Heyford Park's unobstructed views of the stars.

Movies such as, 'Star Wars: The Force Awakens', 'Top Gun, Armageddon', 'ET' and 'Gravity' are some of the films to be screened.

Sarah McCready, Dorchester Living's head of social infrastructure said: "This will be the second of our summer events and follows the very successful Street Feast (below) held over the August Bank Holiday weekend and 'Look into the Skies' will allow us to do just that."

Tickets cost £3 in advance or £4.50 on the door and the event starts at 6.30pm.

NY band to play

LIVE MUSIC: New York-based band Moon Hooch will be playing the O2 Academy in Oxford on Thursday, September 15.

The three-piece, made up of Mike Wilbur, Wenzl McGowen and James Muschler, will perform tunes from their new album, 'Red Sky', which was released earlier this year.

Tickets cost £9.05 and the gig starts at 7pm.

Comedy night

COMEDY: The Glee Club's weekly comedy bill will continue on Saturday, September 10 when funny men Javier Jarquin and Elliot Steel and another comedian who has yet to have been confirmed perform at the Hythe Bridge Street venue.

Suitable for over-18s, tickets cost £14.50 and doors open at 7.15pm.

Band to return

LIVE MUSIC: Folk rock, rock and soul band Danny & The Champions of the World will perform at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot on Sunday, September 11.

The band, named after a popular Roald Dahl book, will perform tracks from their six studio albums.

The gig will start at 7.30pm and tickets cost £15.

Tribute band to play U2's party

By James Richings

FOR just over two years, U2 tribute band U2Baby has been showcasing some of the Irish group's most iconic songs.

'With or Without You', 'Where the Streets Have No Name', 'The Fly' and 'Desire' are just some of the tracks the cover group plays.

So you can hear these and other hits when U2Baby performs at Fat Lil's in Witney tomorrow night.

With this being the band's first appearance at the Corn Street venue, Simon Pearce, who portrays lead guitarist The Edge, hopes U2Baby can give their audience good value for money before the band jets off to the Republic of Ireland to perform at the U2 40th anniversary celebrations in Dublin later this month.

Steve told the Guardian: "We have been extremely lucky in getting some high-profile gigs in that time, so everyone thinks we have been going much longer. We have been to Switzerland, we're heading off to Dublin this month and, along with some festivals and theatre gigs, it has been pretty impressive so far.

"With a band like U2, one of the hardest things to do is choose the set list for any venue or event. They have such a large back catalogue, chopping that down into a two-hour show is "almost" impossible.

"However, we aim to create the feeling of an intimate U2 gig, recreating the iconic moments from their history, the sights and sound as well as the energy."

As well as Simon as The Edge, the band is made up of his brother Ric Pearce as lead singer Bono, bassist Adam Clayton as Ash Barber and Larry Mullen Jnr as drummer Jon Couling, the band has gained a strong following, despite only being scheduled to do nine gigs this year.

Two years have passed since U2Baby formed, and in that time, the band has seen its Facebook page accumulate just over 1,300 'likes'.

And, with more tribute bands emerging, Simon hopes their live performances can inspire a new generation of tribute artists.

"It is incredibly important to keep music live," he said.

"Without live music, various artists would never have managed to get noticed and make all our lives better with their sound.

"We get a real buzz when younger people attend our shows, because they are generally surprised at how many tracks they know and like."

The gig tomorrow night will start at 9pm and tickets cost £8.80.

Duo to star in Ayckbourn play

A PRODUCTION of one of legendary playwright Alan Ayckbourn's most famous plays will visit the Oxford Playhouse from Monday, September 12 to Saturday, September 17.

First performed in 1965, 'Relatively Speaking' comes to the Beaumont Street theatre as part of its UK tour by the Kenny Wax Theatre Company and stars big names Liza Goddard and Robert Powell.

It tells the story of Greg, who despite only meeting girlfriend Ginny a month previously, decides she is the one for him and heads to her parents' house in Buckinghamshire to ask for her hand in marriage.

But although he calls at the right house, the couple he encounters, Phillip and Sheila, played by Powell and Goddard, are not Ginny's parents but go along with the situation.

Goddard revealed the madness and joy of starring in an Ayckbourn play.

She said: "What's lovely about Sheila and Greg is that they're the two innocents in the story."

Speaking of her role as Sheila, Goddard said: "At times it's like she has just fallen down the rabbit hole into Wonderland because things are not making any sense whatsoever but she just carries on gamely - 'Yes, stay for lunch, lovely'.

"She just sort of rolls with it and that makes it brilliant."

Powell said: "The play is just funny. It's as simple as that really and it's always nice to have a part that's funny."

"The last thing I did, there weren't many jokes in it, so it's quite nice to get back to straight comedy."

With Powell and Goddard having worked with Ayckbourn many times, the opportunity of a role to work in one of his plays was too good an offer to turn down.

Goddard said: "I've been very fortunate. He's just the best director in the entire universe and you just want to please him. He's amazing to work with and all you want to do is get it right for him and even though he's not directly involved in this production, he may come and see it and if he does I'll be terrified."

Powell said: "He's just fun to be with. I remember in our spare time in Scarborough in the 1960s he and I used to go down to the arcades and play pinball. We were both addicted to games and I seem to recall we won some cigarettes once."

Tickets cost from £15 to £31.

Headline Act

Bob Mills is a true elder statesman of British stand-up comedy. The man who bridged the gap between the first wave of "alternative comedy" in the mid-eighties and the new laddism of the early '90s, star Bob Mills is as popular today as when he first strolled on to the comedy circuit in 1985. Now approaching his silver jubilee as a stand-up comic, Bob is one of the most recognisable and respected comedians in the business. On radio Bob has presented his own shows on BBC London and he still regularly covers for Danny Baker. He's also a popular guest on 'Fighting Talk' (BBC Radio 5), Talksport Radio & Loose Ends (BBC Radio 4).

Caution: this performance will contain some adult humour as well as occasional bad language

DO YOU LOVE THE MOVIES?

Well you're in luck as every week you can enter our draw to win a pair of tickets for Cineworld Didcot!

Yes, every week you can be in with a chance of winning a pair of tickets to the film of your choice and it couldn't be easier to enter. All you have to do go to oxfordshireguardian.co.uk/competitions and click on the Cineworld Competition before 12am next Wednesday.

Your name will be entered into the draw and if you win you will be contacted to tell you how to collect your tickets.

You don't have to use the tickets immediately as they are valid for up to one year, so you can wait for the film you REALLY want to see!

THE EULOGY OF TOBY PEACH

I was born on the 18th December 1988. I dressed up as a bandicoot once. I was diagnosed with cancer 3,322,000 minutes ago... Toby has come to deliver his Eulogy. Join him as he enters the (not so) exclusive Cancer Club; sample chemotherapy cocktails, select the perfect funeral playlist and marvel at Willy Wonka's life-saving stem cell machine. From diagnosis to remission, relapse and treatment; experience a young man's journey with cancer in this honest, fascinating and inspiring exploration of modern science and the human body. A "heartfelt and buoyant" (???? Stage) discovery of self-mortality and celebration of life!

Oxford Playhouse, Oxford
PINOCCHIO

Join Geppetto - played by Steve Tiplady - in his carpenter's workshop for the tale of the puppet that wants to be a real boy, and the puppet-maker who wants to be a real father. Pinocchio is carved on stage, brushes become a fox and the shadow of two saws transforms into a giant shark. An element of improvisation makes each performance unique to its audience. Puppetry, shadows, illusion and original music combine to create a show with something for all ages; it's inventive, funny, and has a big heart.

UNTIL YOU HEAR THAT BELL

Told through spoken word and within timed boxing rounds, Until You Hear That Bell is a story about amateur boxing and family. It's about doing something for ten years, and slowly getting good at it. Birked from the 2010 Round-house poetry collective, Sean has won Literary Death Match twice, performed on Channel 4's Random Acts and co-hosts the monthly poetry night. Boxed in.

EQUATIONS FOR A MOVING BODY

Equations for a Moving Body is a story about endurance - when our brains tell our bodies to stop - and the psychology of carrying on. It is a story about preparing mind and body and the people who share that journey with us. What carries us to the finish line? What's left at the end of 141 miles of swimming, cycling and running? Inspired by her own experience in triathlons and iron man events, with help from scientists and psychologists, and a documentary filmmaker, Hannah Nicklin will share what it means to attempt a great feat of endurance, and ask why we do these (frankly ridiculous) kinds of things.

The devil is in the detail, and the engine, of the impressive Honda Civic Type R 2.0 GT Motor engineering at its best

MOST people know that the Civic Type R is a brilliant piece of engineering, and most people who own a Type R will know that it will attract a certain amount of attention.

Interior & technology:

The might of the Type R is powered by a 300bhp turbocharged 2.0 VTEC engine that has blistering performance and can sprint from 0-to-62 mph in just 5.7 seconds – making it the fastest accelerating performance front-wheel drive hatchback to date. Also, let's not forget that top speed of 167 mph and 400Nm of torque.

On the road:

Honda's adaptive damper system was developed specifically for the Type R and it enables continuous independent control of each wheel – which in turn delivers exceptional road holding. I really did try to get the Type R out of shape into the corners under normal road conditions but it was just so planted, all I can remember thinking is 'damn this thing is really good'. Then there are the brakes that are just as staggering.

By Anthony Yates

Design & technology

When you look at the Type R – it looks very aggressive and that aerodynamic styling makes you almost stop in your tracks.

Inside the Type R you will also find standard equipment such as; auto lights and wipers, dual zone climate control, Honda CONNECT infotainment system, limited slip differential, Brembo discs and callipers, four point adaptive damper system and dual axis strut front suspension.

To sum up:

What more can I possibly say – the Type R is an epic machine that I cannot possibly fault.

Do you know the difference between an mot and a service ?

Many customers assume that when an mot is carried out on there vehicle it will ensure that the vehicle is safe and ready to use on the road,well believe it or not this in some cases this is not correct,in fact a vehicle can pass the mot and not be fit for use on the public highway !!

The mot standards are very low and are purely there to assess the condition of the vehicle on the day,on many occasions it is not uncommon to pass a vehicle with tyres and brakes just over the test standards then a week or so later the vehicle owner needing to have the parts renewed.

When we carry out an mot test,we always explain to the customer the findings and the sensible vehicle owners tend to listen and have items replaced that are just on the pass limit.

We can not emphasie enough how important it is to have a service along side an mot to ensure your vehicle is safe and fit for use on the public highway,service standards are far more robust and will highlight issues that an mot is simply not designed to do plus with most modern vehicles electrics on a service correctly done the garage will use a laptop or similar to interrogate the complex electronics to pick up any hidden issues.

Many customers are on a budget and wrongly assume that by missing a service they save money,well that is a myth , think of it like this you use the car daily,you carry children,pets,shopping,friends and you go to work,holidays,days out etc in your car and you expect all of this in total reliability and safety in a car you have spent £1000s of your hard earned cash on .Yet you are doing this without anything more than a mot test once a year in the mistaken belief the mot will ensure your safety.

We see countless customers who arrive on the back of a breakdown wagon simply because simple service checks/ replacements have been missed and the customer have had there holiday,day out or trip to work ruined because they do not understand the mot scheme.

Williams are back up to fourth with decent showing in Monza

THE fast straights of Monza helped Williams jump back up to fourth in the constructors' championship after a reasonable performance at Sunday's Italian Grand Prix.

Valtteri Bottas finished sixth and Felipe Massa ninth as Grove-based Williams regained the position they had lost to Force India the previous week in Belgium.

Bottas in particular made a strong start to Sunday's race, making up a place off the start following Lewis Hamilton's slow getaway to run fourth in the early stages.

By Adam Flinn

Hamilton was soon able to get past, leaving Bottas in a race-long battle with the Red Bull of Daniel Ricciardo.

And it would take a sensational overtake from Ricciardo to get past the Finn on lap 47, as the Australian came from miles back to throw his Red Bull up the inside of the Williams going into the first chicane.

Bottas said: "I set myself a target of finishing on the podium, but we didn't quite have the pace which meant that I had to push the tyre a little bit more.

"The pure pace wasn't there, but overall we leave Monza with a positive result for the team, taking back fourth place in the constructors' championship."

Massa ended the race in ninth having started 11th, and was chasing down Sergio Perez for eighth when the chequered flag fell.

It comes after the 35-year-old Brazilian announced ahead of the race that he would be retiring from F1 at the end of 2016.

Massa said: "I think it was a good race apart from the fact that we didn't have the pace we expected with the option tyres.

"My race started after I changed onto the supersoft tyres and my pace was really good.

"If I could have got a bit more out of my tyres then it could have been better but I'm pleased that we managed to take back fourth in the constructors' championship."

But it was an afternoon to forget for Enstone-based Renault, with Kevin Magnussen coming home 17th and Jolyon Palmer failing to finish.

Magnussen, back in the car after his horrific high-speed crash in Belgium, made a promising start but slipped back during the race, ending up second last.

And Palmer's race was ended prematurely when he was run off the road by Felipe Nasr's Sauber, with the two cars colliding and resulting in too much damage to be able to continue.

Renault team principal Fred Vasseur said: "After the promise of Spa, Monza proved to be our toughest challenge of the year. "The positives are not easily seen on track but rather lie in all the hard work going on behind the scenes in Enstone and Viry (in France) and we know that in 2017 we will be far stronger."

No luck after strong qualifying

BANBURY'S two Formula One teams both left Sunday's Italian Grand Prix in Monza slightly disappointed after neither managed to score any points following strong showings in qualifying.

Esteban Gutierrez had secured Haas' first ever top-10 grid spot on Saturday, while Pascal Wehrlein had got his Manor into 13th - his second best ever qualifying performance.

However Gutierrez's race went wrong off the start as he made a poor getaway and dropped almost all the way to the back.

He eventually finished 13th, while his team-mate Romain Grosjean was just outside the points in 11th.

Gutierrez said: "It was a very disappointing start to the race losing a lot of positions.

"It wasn't very easy but we kept ourselves together and pushed really hard to recover everything we could, but what we lost in the beginning was too much to get back to where we started."

As for Wehrlein, he was forced to park his car on lap 26 with technical gremlins, while team-mate Esteban Ocon propped up the order in 18th.

Wehrlein said: "The situation is difficult to take, knowing what is possible from the car and having push so hard all weekend again.

"But I know the team will want to sort the problems out as quickly as possible."

Lynn fights back to fifth

OXFORD-BASED GP2 racer Alex Lynn completed a sublime comeback in the sprint race at Monza on Sunday by overtaking Nobuharu Matsushita for fifth at the final corner on the last lap.

Lynn had been forced to start Saturday's feature race from the pit lane after encountering problems on the way to the grid.

He fought back to finish 12th - the position he would therefore start from in Sunday's sprint race.

And Lynn was already up to seventh by the end of the first lap, and found himself in a battle with Matsushita.

And as Matsushita was battling Artem Markelov on the final lap, Lynn took his chance to force his way past the Japanese driver and pip him to finish seventh on the road, upgraded to fifth after post-race penalties were applied to drivers further up the order.

"It was a classic Monza slipstream finish and I beat Matsushita across the line by a hundredth of a second - just why I love racing there," said Lynn.

"It was a result I couldn't have expected when I was sitting in the pit lane before the race on Saturday, but it is a shame we had that problem because our car was performing really well in race trim."

Strong start as Witney win league opener

THE new South West 1 East season opened on Saturday, with two Oxfordshire teams battling it out in a close fought encounter.

Witney hosted newly promoted Banbury at Hailey Park to clinch victory on a rain-soaked afternoon.

After a sloppy start, Callum Godfrey got the hosts' first try of the game, beating covering defenders with a 35 metre run, after a poor clearance from Banbury's full-back.

The two fly-halves then exchanged goal-kicks before Witney centre Jake Thomas won the race for a downfield kick ahead from the half-way line to score.

Despite losing scorer Godfrey to a yellow card for repeated off-sides, the home side had a 18-3 lead at half-time.

Banbury mounted a comeback in the second half through winger Joshua Deegan's 40-metre interception to give them hope.

The pressure continued as Banbury remained camped in Witney's 22, and eventually Matt Goode stole away from down the blindside of a maul to claim the Bulls' second try.

A nailbiting finish then saw the Bulls cross the line again but were held up by a resilient Witney defence, as they held out to claim victory.

Unbeaten at home last year, Oxford Harlequins lost their first home game of the season as Old Patesians rumbled them 18-10 at Marston Ferry Road.

Despite a second-half try from Chris Davies, the Harlequins had left their comeback too late and were unable to overcome the visitors' earlier tries.

Elsewhere, Grove fell to a 22-15 loss away to Swindon in their first game of the season.

City avoid financial ruin and end their winless run

• Reece Fleet in action for City (picture courtesy of Michael Allen)

OXFORD City have avoided liquidation in a turbulent week that also saw them end their winless run to elevate them out the National League South relegation zone.

The club were summoned to the High Court on Monday faced with a winding-up order, but City chairman Brian Cox has confirmed the club have paid an outstanding tax bill.

Had the debt not been paid, a judge could have passed a winding-up order that would have liquidated the 134-year-old club.

City were also hammered 4-0 away at Eastbourne Borough on Saturday but beat Bath City 3-1 away with 10 men on Tuesday night.

Tuesday's win put an end to an unwanted winless streak, which had seen the Hoops winless in seven matches – six of them defeats.

Oxford City started their match at Bath City with a trio of new loanees from Oxford United in the line-up: James

By George Welch

Roberts, who featured for City last season, Jonny Giles and Josh Ashby.

City already had Jack Stevens and Robbie Cundy on loan from the U's.

A 50th minute Giles goal and a Mike Fondop brace in the last 11 minutes secured Justin Merritt's side their first three points away from home this season.

Nick McCootie had given the Romans a first half lead. The first half also saw Roberts receive a straight red-card for an ill-judged challenge just before the break.

Fondop, who signed from Billericay ahead of Saturdays defeat to Eastbourne, proved the match winner with his 79th and 89th minute strikes.

Their win at Bath came just a day after it was announced the two sides are to meet in the FA Cup second qualifying round on September 17.

It has been a turbulent few months for the club, with former club president Thomas Guerriero jailed for fraud in May and managing director Colin Taylor found dead at the club's Marsh Lane stadium in July.

Guerriero was jailed for more than 12 years for his part in a $6.6 million telemarketing scam.

And City were hit for four on Saturday when they lost 4-0 at Eastbourne Borough.

City were struck with a double blow early on as, firstly, Miguel Baptista fired past Stevens on 12 minutes and, just three minutes later, Josh Hare added another from a free-kick on the edge of the box.

The Sports netted their third on the half-hour to give the hosts a 3-0 lead at the break.

Mark Hughes scored for Eastbourne on 55 minutes to round off a resounding victory.

City's three points in two matches lifts Merritt's men to 21st in the table, one place and also one point above the relegation zone.

Eddie Pepperell in 'recession'

ABINGDON golfer Eddie Pepperell has had another week to forget after failing to make the cut in Switzerland last week.

After only surviving two rounds at the Crans-sur-Sierre Golf Club, Pepperell has now missed three cuts in the last three weeks.

The Oxfordshire man scored +6 to miss the cut and finish tied 119th at the Omega European Masters.

Most of the damage for Pepperell was self-inflicted on day one after completing Thursday's session on +5.

The world 189 fired seven bogeys and a double bogey on the sixth hole to make it an uphill struggle to remain in contention.

He followed this up with five bogeys and four birdies on Friday to score +1 for the second round, carding 146 to miss the cut by three shots.

Swede Alex Noren won in Switzerland by overcoming Aussie Scott Hend in a play off after they both finished on -17.

In the last three weeks, Pepperell has also missed the cut at the Made in Denmark tournament (+11) and at the Czech Masters (+4), to the great frustration of the 25-year-old.

On his website he said: "This year so far has been a struggle.

"If I viewed myself the way I'd look at the economy, I would soon realise that I'm in a recession.

"My golf has been heading backwards for around a year, and it took me nine months to realise it before making a structural change (changing my coach). Now I'm in the period of starting a few things up again and making a couple of necessary, albeit difficult changes."

Pepperell tees off today at the KLM Open in Holland.

Oxford hurdler takes gold at School Games

THE Olympics may have just finished but Oxford hurdler Jade O'Dowda has the next Games in Tokyo at the forefront of her mind following her 80m hurdles gold medal at the School Games in Loughborough last week.

The Gosford Hill School pupil has had a testing season due to mixed performances, but she made no mistake as she held off silver medallist Pippa Earley in 11.27 seconds to take glory.

The School Games is a major multi-sport competition for school-age elite athletes and between September 1 and 4, around 1,600 of the nation's finest young sports stars competed across 12 current and future Olympic and Paralympic sports.

And O'Dowda admits she loved the experience of mixing with other athletes from different sports, just like she hopes to do at the Olympics.

The 16-year-old Oxford City AC athlete said: "It feels really good to be a gold medallist at the School Games.

"It was really close on the last hurdle but I knew I had to get to the line and I knew it was close.

"It has been really good. I did not realise how many athletes were here and I really wanted to get out to see some other sports but I have not really had time."

Fifteen of Team GB's 67 medals at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games came from School Games alumni.

The 2016 School Games is supported by a range of partners including the Department for Culture, Media and Sport, Sport England, Youth Sport Trust, Department of Health and British Paralympic Association.

Turner tops table with Mexico win for Aston Martin

DARREN Turner and his Aston Martin teammate Richie Stanaway won the inaugural '6 Hours of Mexico' on Saturday with a dominant display at the Autodromo Hermanos Rodriguez in Mexico City.

This result rockets Turner, from Chacombe, near Banbury, into the lead of the GT Drivers Championship standings in the World Endurance Championships.

The duo qualified their #97

Aston Martin on the front row of the grid for round five of the championship, just one-tenth of a second shy of the #95 Aston Martin of Nicki Thiim and Marco Sørensen.

It was Stanaway who took the start and after the first hour the #97 Aston Martin was running a few seconds behind the race-leading #95 of Thiim.

The turning point for #97 was Stanaway's stint in the middle of the race.

Turner took over and completed a double stint to finish the race, for most of which he was under pressure from the #51 Ferrari.

Turner crossed the line almost 10 seconds clear of the #51 Ferrari and took maximum championship points to lead the standings from AF Corse by a single point.

Turner said: "It's a great feeling to be leading the championship and hopefully I can keep that momentum."

Late Sercombe winner steals the points for United U's dig deep to bury Dale

A LATE goal from Liam Sercombe gave Oxford United victory over Rochdale in a wet encounter on Saturday.

His goal, assisted by new signing Marvin Johnson claimed victory over the Lancashire side, who are still looking for a first win of the season.

Oxford handed a start to their deadline day centre-back signing Charlie Raglan, who joined on loan from Chesterfield, as record signing Marvin Johnson started on the bench.

The visitors got the better start, with two early chances falling to striker Andy Cannon, who slid in at the back post for his first effort, which went just over the bar, before showing great agility to swivel into the box before losing his footing.

Oxford then had a chance of their own after the 10 minute mark, with Wes Thomas' hard work paying off as his lay-off for Joe Rothwell saw the ball landing at the feet of Kane Hemmings with his back to goal, but the striker failed to capitalise.

Thomas later had his own opportunity when his turn left the defence for dead, but, having drawn Conrad Logan, he also hurried his shot at the keeper.

Simon Eastwood did just as well at the other end to keep out the best of Dale's efforts on goal. Frustration set in towards the end of the half as both Chris Maguire and Raglan were cautioned.

Coming out early for the second half, and bringing on new signing Johnson, striker Thomas nearly repeated his feat against Peterborough, ghosting in on goal unopposed early on, before falling in the box.

New signing Johnson also had some chances to stamp his authority, gliding in from the left to nod a free header over the bar.

Man of the match Maguire challenged the keeper on the hour mark with his only free-kick, but could not find the net.

As the clock ran down, The Dale then hit the woodwork through defender Niall Canavan, and replacement Peter Vincenti nearly put a late shot past Eastwood, but was deemed offside.

With two minutes to go in another typical counter-attack from Johnson, the new man once again used his pace to get in behind the defence and played a ball across the face of goal to find Sercombe ready to poke past the helpless Logan.

Johnson then had the chance for a dream debut finish with the last move of the game. Charging one-on-one with the keeper after latching onto a Maguire ball, the forward drew the keeper, but put his shot just wide.

Freds thrashed in FA Cup replay

TEN-MAN Wantage Town were knocked out of the FA Cup after 6-1 hammering at Beaconsfield SYCOB on Monday night in a first qualifying round replay.

The thrashing came after the teams could not be separated in Saturday's 1-1 draw at Alfredian Park.

Two goals apiece for Oliver McCoy and Nathan Minhas, and further second half goals from Guri Demuria and Charlie Losasso rounded off a perfect evening for the Buckinghamshire side.

The Rams held a 1-0 lead at half time and Wantage were reduced to 10 men when they trailed their hosts 3-0.

Harvey Scholes did reduce the arrears for The Freds shortly after going a man down to make it 3-1 but it proved nothing more than a consolation.

The replay came after The Freds drew 1-1 at Alfredian Park on Saturday. Both goals came in the first half when McCoy converted a header on five minutes for the Rams before Mark Francis scored a fine individual goal on 19 minutes. Neither side managed a winner, forcing Monday's replay.

Carterton withdraw from league

AFTER a summer of turmoil, Carterton FC have this week withdrawn from their league, a little over a month into the 2016-17 season.

The Hellenic League confirmed on Monday they had received and accepted the west Oxfordshire side's resignation from the UHlsport Hellenic Football League.

A statement from the league read: "At 12:51 today [Monday] Carterton submitted their resignation from the UHlsport Hellenic Football League, which has been reluctantly accepted.

"This decision was not taken lightly by the club's committee."

Carterton won promotion from the UHL Division One West last season but manager Ben Sadler has since resigned and the majority of the players left with him.

They won their first game of the season 3-2 at Royal Wootton Bassett before losing against Ascot United and Brimscombe & Thrupp.

And the Kilkenny Lane side forfeited Saturday's match away to Tuffley Rovers. They also lost in the cup in August to Highmoor-Ibis.

Just two weeks ago, JP Hanaway, Sean O'Sullivan and Banjo Malcolm were appointed as joint managers.

The club's secretary Nick Truman said: "New managers were appointed and unfortunately after much hard work they were also let down by their new signings.

"This resulted in them also stepping down this weekend.

"Every one of the committee decided that it was in the clubs best interest to ensure its survival that this action be taken."

North Leigh progress to next FA Cup stage

THERE was late FA Cup drama on Saturday as North Leigh beat Corinthian Casuals 3-2 with a last gasp winner to secure their place in the second qualifying round.

Victory was secured for John Brough's men at the King George's Arena in Surrey thanks to a goal in each half from George Seacole and a last minute Lance Williams header.

The Casuals gave their visitors a scare after two first half Shaun Okojie goals meant the Millers trailed 2-1 at half time.

Both sides play at level four of the non-league pyramid, with North Leigh in Division 1 South & West and the Casuals in the Ryman League Division One South.

The Casuals were top of their league and unbeaten prior to the clash with the west Oxfordshire outfit.

But North Leigh have also had an encouraging start to the campaign as the Eynsham Park side sit in fourth place.

And it was a strong second half performance that secured a ticket to the second qualifying round for North Leigh.

Despite trailing at the break, striker Seacole nodded home an equaliser before an 89th minute looping header by Williams from the edge of the area won it for North Leigh.

North Leigh will face National League South side Weston-super-Mare at Eynsham Park on September 17.

Crisis aborted

RUGBY UNION: London Welsh, who spent three years playing at Oxford United's Kassam Stadium, have avoided liquidation after paying their debts.

A winding-up petition was dismissed by the High Court in a brief hearing on Monday, which revealed money owed to Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs had been paid.

Welsh escaped liquidation in April but have struggled to pay players' wages since.

London Welsh started their league campaign with a 33-32 defeat at Rotherham on Sunday.

New coach

ROWING: The Oxford University Women's Boat Club have announced their new chief coach after the departure of Christine Wilson this summer.

Ali Williams will now take the lead role having assisted in The 2016 Cancer Research UK Boat Races campaign.

She said she is "very excited and hugely honoured" to take on her new position.

The club has won four consecutive Women's Boat Races.

The 163rd Boat Race and the 72nd Women's Boat Race will take place next April.

Kit launch

ICE HOCKEY: Oxford City Stars have unveiled their new kits ahead of the 2016/17 season.

The Stars have kept with the yellow and blue theme for the home shirt which has proved popular, and have opted for a black and grey away shirt (pictured below).

The Stars' shirt also features an outline of the Skyline of Oxford, stars, and displays the clubs sponsors.

The club say the kits will be available to pre-order in the coming weeks. A new range of merchandise is to be released as well.

Double deadline day deal

Marvin Johnson

Age: 25

Position: Winger

Former clubs: Kidderminster Harriers, Motherwell

Charlie Raglan

Age: 23

Position: Defender

Former clubs: Hinckley United,
On loan from Chesterfield (four months)

OXFORD boss Michael Appleton has heaped praise on new record signing Marvin Johnson, after he set up the assist to Liam Sercombe's late winner on Saturday.

Oxford United left it late on deadline day, signing both winger Johnson and defender Charlie Raglan on Wednesday last week.

After a six-week pursuit, Motherwell's Johnson joined the club in what is believed to be a club record fee.

The undisclosed deal is thought to be significantly less than the £1m quote the U's received from the Scottish Premier League club last month.

By George Welch

But it is also thought to be higher than the £470,000 the club paid for Dean Windass in 1998.

Johnson came on as a tactical substitution for striker Kane Hemmings at half-time against Rochdale, supplying Liam Sercombe with the assist for his 88th minute winner.

Yellow's boss Michael Appleton said after the win on Saturday: "Marvin's going to be a big player for us, let's not mess about. I think people have seen enough in 45 minutes - he's going to be a top talent."

The 25-year-old winger, who signed a three-year contract, had been a top target for Appleton following the sale of Callum O'Dowda to Bristol City during the summer transfer window.

United had two bids turned down by Motherwell but Johnson, who scored 11 goals in 64 appearances for the Scottish side after joining from Kidderminster in February 2015, handed in a transfer request on Monday last week to force the move.

There was uncertainty over the transfer on deadline day but the deal was wrapped up with less than three hours until the transfer window slammed shut.

And Appleton also strengthened his defensive options by signing Chesterfield defender Charlie Raglan on loan until January.

The 23-year-old will provide cover following injuries to Christian Ribeiro, Curtis Nelson and Joe Skarz, as well as Aaron Martin who is absent for personal reasons.

Raglan has played 46 league games for the Spireites since signing from Hinckley United in July 2014 and played against Oxford in the league opener at the Kassam on August 6.

He was also given a starting place in Saturday's line-up at centre-back, picking up a yellow card on his debut.

Appleton said: "We've got a lot of new recruits in the building this year, we're a new team and it's still building."

"I think as long as we keep picking up points then once that first third of the season is out the way, then you'll really start to see the best of Oxford."

Age UK Hearing Aids Cosmetic Clinic

Clear and simple advice on discreet hearing solutions to fit your lifestyle

Technological advances have enabled manufacturers to add features to tiny hearing aids. These can eliminate many of the problems associated with these highly cosmetic fittings.

However, less in size can sometimes mean less in performance so a very careful and detailed assessment is required before recommending style choices. Not only do we link the style choices you'll have to your test results but unlike many other providers with Age UK Hearing Aids less in size doesn't mean more in price.

Our approach

Our aim is to ensure you enjoy the greatest possible improvement and the best value for money. We have access to every manufacturer and only prescribe the newest and most appropriate technologies.

We specialise in offering a wide selection of discreet and invisible hearing aids and because of our detailed assessment we can tailor them into the most discrete solutions possible without impacting on their performance.

Independence & Ethics

Many hearing aid companies are either owned by or have a supply agreement with a manufacturer and as such are not truly independent.

Age UK Hearing Aids are fully independent. We can supply hearing solutions from any manufacturer.

Being independent not only means we can prescribe the right solution for you but it also allows us to gain a much broader view of the market and the latest technologies.

To take the next step you should phone us now to organise a completely free of charge and without obligation hearing assessment. Whatever you decide to do following the assessment it will prove a highly valuable experience and will allow you to learn fully what can be done to improve your hearing and help you to love life!

How the Age UK Hearing Aids Special Hearing Advice Week has benefited our customers

"I contacted Age UK in desperation. My hearing aids were unreliable and failed to help with clarity and background noise in particular. The audiologist gave me the most comprehensive hearing test I had ever had. I was shown a range of hearing aids on offer and how they would help me. I made my choice and they arrived a week later. They were a revelation.

The sound was so different and amazing it took a short while to get used to them. By the time the audiologist left I had a new hearing experience. They have grown on me more and more, I am so delighted I contacted the company. Their aftercare has also been superb. Thank you." Mr Richard Phillips
